Freedom's End: Conspiracy in Oklahoma James D. Nichols, Robert S. Papovich

For more than three years James D. Nichols and Robert S. Papovich have researched and investigated the crime of the century. Having close contact with both defense teams, defense investigators and private investigators, and knowing Timothy McVeigh and Terry Nichols intimately, these first-time authors have presented startling new information and a new perspective about this American tragedy.

Written by Papovich, published by his wife Sandra with financial assistance from friends and family, and previously distributed only from their homes, James Nichols' compelling story should serve as a wake up call for all of us who are just too busy to get involved and would rather let the other guys do something about it.

The story they tell is alarming and very controversial. So controversial that their book Freedom's End was banned from the Gibraltar Trade Shows in Mt. Clemens and Taylor, Michigan. So controversial that no publisher would publish it and no major distributor would distribute it, until now.

The information in Freedom's End has withstood the challenges of Geraldo Rivera, Charles Grodin, Court TV, Hannity & Colmes, Larry King, Phil Donahue, Oliver Buck Revell (former deputy director, FBI) and numerous TV and radio attorneys and judges.

This is a story about a massive assault on a farm in rural American designed to put the Fear of the Fed into the hearts of every American Citizen. It is a story about an innocent farmer being cast into prison even though the FBI admitted they knew from the very beginning that he had done nothing illegal!

This is a story about misery and pain the extent of which is unimaginable to the average person living a normal life. The authors tell about an intricate, well planned conspiracy involving lies, perjury in federal court, witness tampering and elimination, evidence falsification and destruction, and media manipulation resulting in a disinformation campaign which very effectively demonized their targets and kept the truth from the American people.

This is a story about a great American tragedy the result of which was the senseless slaughter of at least 168 innocent citizens in this, the greatest country on Earth. It's a story about the maiming of hundreds more and, without question, the lives of tens of thousands of others will never be the same. Realistically, the lives and the rights of every man, woman and child in America will forever be adversely affected by this one vicious, unconscionable act of violence.

This story is about a cover-up, the likes of which this Nation has not seen since the Kennedy assassination. As a matter of fact, after reading this information for yourself, you may well conclude that the conspiracy and cover-up of the assassination of President John F. Kennedy pales by comparison to the conspiracy and cover-up of the April 19, 1995 bombing of the Alfred P. Murrah Federal Building in Oklahoma City.
