To create the exotic materials and technologies needed to make stargates and warp drives is the holy grail of advanced propulsion. A less ambitious, but nonetheless revolutionary, goal is finding a way to accelerate a spaceship without having to lug along a gargantuan reservoir of fuel that you blow out a tailpipe. Tethers and solar sails are conventional realizations of the basic idea.

There may now be a way to achieve these lofty objectives. “Making Starships and Stargates” will have three parts. The first will deal with information about the theories of relativity needed to understand the predictions of the effects that make possible the “propulsion” techniques, and an explanation of those techniques. The second will deal with experimental investigations into the feasibility of the predicted effects; that is, do the effects exist and can they be applied to propulsion? The third part of the book – the most speculative – will examine the question: what physics is needed if we are to make wormholes and warp drives? Is such physics plausible? And how might we go about actually building such devices? This book pulls all of that material together from various sources, updates and revises it, and presents it in a coherent form so that those interested will be able to find everything of relevance all in one place.

From reader reviews:

Steve Garcia:

The reserve untitled Making Starships and Stargates: The Science of Interstellar Transport and Absurdly Benign Wormholes (Springer Praxis Books) is the e-book that recommended to you to see. You can see the quality of the book content that will be shown to a person. The language that publisher use to explained their way of doing something is easily to understand. The author was did a lot of research when write the book, and so the information that they share to you is absolutely accurate. You also could possibly get the e-book of Making Starships and Stargates: The Science of Interstellar Transport and Absurdly Benign Wormholes (Springer Praxis Books) from the publisher to make you much more enjoy free time.

Curtis Locke:

In this period globalization it is important to someone to receive information. The information will make anyone to understand the condition of the world. The healthiness of the world makes the information easier to share. You can find a lot of referrals to get information example: internet, magazine, book, and soon. You can see that now, a lot of publisher which print many kinds of book. The actual book that recommended to you personally is Making Starships and Stargates: The Science of Interstellar Transport and Absurdly Benign Wormholes (Springer Praxis Books) this guide consist a lot of the information from the condition of this world now. This specific book was represented just how can the world has grown up. The language styles that writer require to explain it is easy to understand. Often the writer made some study when he makes this book. This is why this book ideal all of you.

John Ward:

Is it you who having spare time subsequently spend it whole day by watching television programs or just resting on the bed? Do you need something totally new? This Making Starships and Stargates: The Science of Interstellar Transport and Absurdly Benign Wormholes (Springer Praxis Books) can be the reply, oh how comes? A fresh book you know. You are thus out of date, spending your free time by reading in this brand-new era is common not a geek activity. So what these books have than the others?

Thomas Baier:

What is your hobby? Have you heard that will question when you got pupils? We believe that that issue was given by teacher for their students.
